Daughters of the Confederacy.

A regular meeting of the Maury County Chapter will be held on Friday, July 3, at 4 o'clock p. m., at the residence of Mrs. Ellen Dunnington.
It is hoped that the members will attend these monthly meetings, and each endeavor to bring in recruits; otherwise, interest will lag and our chapter die.

For the benefit of those who have so kindly assisted us in our work, I will state that since the Chapter was formed in March, we have sent on the sum of $300 for the Battle Abbey fund, assisted in various ways toward raising money for the Sam Davis monument, and contributed funds for the relief of several disabled veterans.

Our roll now numbers 43 members.
Among the number, one resides in Memphis, another in Cincinnati; but the ties which bind them to their girlhood's home have led them to place their names upon the roll-book of the Maury County Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

C. S. Williamson, J. J. Elam, Frank Dale, Geo. Williamson, Marion Harlan, and Joshua Guest.

Kicked by His Horse.

Last Saturday while painting the leg of his horse with iodine, the horse stamped his foot at flies and struck Mr. George Harlan on the right temple with the cork of a horse shoe which came near putting his right eye out. His face was also badly bruised.

The hatchet of straight forward steadfastness cut the bond of "colonies" in 1776. Washington succeeded because he deserved success. He was honest, earnest, truthful—in business as well as in war.
We try to apply his methods to our business and to gain success by deserving it. To make the Fourth more glorious, we offer from now until August 1, 1896, special prices on Queensware, Stoves and Tinware.
We carry six decorations in open stock patterns. You can buy a set as you need it and won't miss the money. Our prices on stoves can't be duplicated. We are the people that sell tinware. Elegant new patterns in glassware. Call and see

THE GAY GAMBLERS.

Eight of Them Caught Like Rats in a Trap.

The Raid Nets the Corporation Nearly $100.—Their Paraphernalia
All Destroyed.

City Marshall Guest and Officers Friel and Roberts wrote their names high up on the honor roll last Saturday. They not only caught eight gamblers and the keeper of the game dead to rights, but they did it so publicly and attracted so much attention thereby, in the broad glare of daylight, that they threw consternation in their ranks and closed the gambling hell tight and fast, for the present at least, and for good we hope.

The game was being run by one Wm. Brown, over Ragan's saloon, in Watson the liveryman's building, on South Main street. How the police got on to it, is their business.
But they got there, or thereabouts, and all around there. The birds that flew to the roof and fopped to the ground, found little Jimmie Roberts standing there with a stick in his hand, and they sheepishly turned and went back up stairs with him, where Capt. Friel was keeping guard and making a list of their names. In the meantime City Marshal Guest was yanking others from their hiding places, until very soon the covey was collected again.

Then they were marched to the City Hall, where they gave bond for their appearance on Monday. Monday Judge Erwin fined each of the gamblers $5 and costs, and the keeper of the game $25 and costs.

The gambling devices—tables, covers, chips, dice, boxes, cards, etc.— were saturated with coal oil, put in a pile in front of the City Hall Monday about noon, and burned.

All honor to the officers, and may the good work go on.

WEDDING BELLS.

Barr-Richards.

Mr. Samuel M. Barr, of this city, and Miss Lillie Belle Richards, of Nashville, were united in marriage on last Tuesday evening, at the home of the bride's parents, 504 Monroe Street. Brilliant illuminations, the fragrance and beauty of all the flowers which bedeck the marriage altar in the month of June, and soft strains of music befitting the occasion, rendered the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. T. L. Moody, particularly impressive. After the ceremony, and the hearty congratulations of their friends, the bridal party and guests repaired to the spacious dining room, where a delicious menu was served.

Columbia is fortunate indeed to have Mr. and Mrs. Barr make their home here. Mr. Barr has made a host of friends in Columbia, and is a splendid young man in every respect.
He possesses all the qualities of heart and mind which constitute true manhood, combined with a gentleness and amiability of disposition, which wins for him the respect of all with whom he comes in contact.

Mrs. Barr is as yet unknown in Columbia, but her splendid family connections, her fine intellectual accomplishments, and her fascinating manners will soon win for her friends without number.

Mr. and Mrs. Barr came immediately to their home, the McCord house, on Sixth street.

Cutting Down Expenses.

The allowance for division expenses has been so curtailed by the present administration, that Collector Frank Bond has been compelled to cut down his force. Among those who are temporarily relieved of service, is Mr. Joe C. Parks, of Columbia. Mr. Bond writes that he hopes to reinstate him at an early day, but cannot tell just when. Mr.
Parks is a fearless and efficient officer, and his legion of friends here hope that his enforced holiday will not last long.

A House Thief Arrested.

Jim Frierson, alias "Jim Fussy," is now in jail awaiting the September term of the Circuit Court. He was arrested by officer Guest last Saturday and tried before Judge Erwin on the charge of entering Mrs. Geo. C. Taylor's house on Thursday night of last week, and going into Mrs. Grigsby's room and taking a pocketbook containing $8 and some valuable papers. The pocketbook, minus the money, was found in Mr. A. S. James' yard. The officers were notified, and Jim was suspected, as he had offered the same day to sell the bill for 10 cents at Leon-hard & Voss' potato patch. His arrest and trial before Judge Erwin followed.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

The following notice relates to Misses Emma D. and Helen Smith, of this city, and is from the Louisville Courier-Journal: "The Misses Smith, who are visiting Mrs. John Stratton, are being delightfully entertained during their stay in old Kentucky. The other evening the hostess engaged some colored musicians for an informal dance, which was held on the lawn, and the merriment kept up until a late hour.
Last evening a break party was given in their honor, followed by a supper. The Misses Smith are bright, handsome girls, with all the graceful courtesy and charm of manner peculiar to Southern women."

The pretty home of Miss Virginia Webster in West End was the scene of a pleasant lawn party, last evening. The time of our going to press prevents a more extensive notice.

Misses McDavid, of Memphis, and Miss Martin, of Lebanon, were accompanied with a pretty entertainment last Friday evening, by their hostess, Mrs. C. A. Parker. Music and other pleasant pastimes were heartily enjoyed
